Keynote:

“Improving Reading Outcomes through Implementation of Evidence-based, Structured Literacy Supports”

Dr. Tanya Ihlo

UNL Research Associate Professor, NE Center for Research on Children, Youth, Families and Schools

Director, NE MTSS Implementation Support Team

Department of Teaching, Learning, and Teacher Education

University of Nebraska, Lincoln

Building a continuum of evidence-based, structured literacy core instruction and intervention practices and utilizing systematic data-based decision-making processes to improve reading outcomes for students requires systems change in schools. Dr. Tanya Ihlo will discuss what it takes for schools to change practices, share lessons learned from supporting schools in implementation of evidence-based practices, and show results from schools that are making a difference.

ALL are invited to join us for this special event!

No registration required! Refreshments!

Educators, request Professional Development credit from your school.
